Question Two: (50 points)

Read the following two texts carefully, and then in your ANSWER BOOKLET answer all the questions that follow each text. Your answers should be based on the texts.

Text One: (25 points)

In many countries, an increasing number of young people and adults are overweight or even obese. One reason for this is the growing popularity of fast food, which didn't use to be as common as it is now. Another big factor is lack of exercise. Modern technology has also played its part; we spend more and more time focusing on computer screens. Before the Internet was invented, nobody had dreamt of online shopping, but now we can buy almost anything without leaving the sofa.

Health experts have been warning about this trend for years, and their advice is clear. Adults should aim to exercise for at least two and a half hours every week; for children and teenagers the target should be at least an hour a day. This might not sound very much. However, recent research shows that less than 50% of the British population manages this. They recommend a mixture of activities. These should include moderate exercise, such as fast walking, and more strenuous exercise, like running. They also advise exercise that strengthens the muscles, for example sit-ups. The more muscle we build, the more calories we burn, and the fitter we become. In addition, exercise is a great way to cope with stress.

1. The text states different reasons for higher rates of obesity. Write down three of these reasons. (6 points)
2. Mixture of activities is recommended by health experts to keep fit. Write down two examples of these activities. (6 points)
3. Write down the sentence which states that British people don't get enough exercise. (4 points)
4. What is the minimum amount of exercise recommended for adults? (3 points)
5. Increasing awareness of obesity among children is the responsibility of the parents. Think of this statement and, in two sentences, write down your point of view. (6 points)

Text Two: (25 points)

In England, almost 50% of school leavers go on to higher education. The figure has not always been as high as this. Before 1998 CE, higher education in the UK was completely free for UK citizens. Since then, tuition fees have been introduced. Most students borrow this money from the government. They don't have to repay it immediately. Instead, they pay it back slowly out of future savings.

Despite the high cost, most students choose to study away from home. For most young people, living away from home means borrowing even more money from the government. So why don't students choose to avoid debt by staying at home, where they don't have to pay rent? Most of them say that they want to move to the university of their choice, rather than the nearest one. Another strong motive is the desire to live in a new culture. Where do these students live? Many have rooms in halls of residence, especially in their first year; others rent flats or houses. A lucky minority live in property that their parents have bought for them. Most of them need to learn to cook, do their own washing and manage their time and money.

1. The text states three different places that students may live in when studying away from their homes. Write them down. (6 points)
2. Students who study away from their home should do some of the daily skills. Write down two of these skills. (6 points)
3. What does the underlined word (it) refer to? (4 points)
